

ABSTRACT

This thesis is about the Citation Analysis of the thesis of the Library Science Study Program Diponegoro University on the topic of Information Literacy in 2015-2019. The purpose of the research is to determine of obsolescence of literature, type of literature, language of literature and the rank of the author that is most cited in the thesis of the Library Science Study Program, Diponegoro University with the topic of Information Literacy in 2015-2019. This research is an evaluative bibliometric study that calculates the use of literature through citation analysis. The method used in this research is quantitative method. The thesis sampling technique used purposive sampling and citation using total sampling. The data collection technique in this study used documentation. Data analysis method with descriptive statistical analysis. The results showed that the average life span of the literature obtained was 7.6 years with a high level of use of obsolete literature from year to year. The most cited type of literature is books 506 citations, the most cited language is Indonesian 671 citations. The most cited author in the thesis is Sugiyono and the most cited authors on the topic of information literacy are Agustin Wydia Gunawan, et al, Alan Bundy, and Jonner Hasugian.

Keywords: Citation Analysis; Thesis; Information Literacy