

ABSTRACT

The Migration Citizen Klaten to Jakarta from year to year its amount there is no big reduction. This matter still many interesting factor making all migrant still chosen metropolis to look for better subsistence and also look for experience work in town of is target of. Where Jakarta city still become first priority supported more and more and kinds of its transportation system.

The purpose of This research to for the knowing of most having an effect on factors to amount of klaten citizen migration to Jakarta year period 1998-2006. used by secondary data with count systemat every quarterly from on duty labour & Transmigration Sub province klaten, Statistical Bureau Center of Klaten and Jakarta, and also relevant on duty which give information for the research of. The analysis used the capital of linear regression.

The result of the research of showing that wide of variables of rice field farm, economic growth, and unemployment storey level in migrant area have an effect on by significant to amount of citizen Klaten Migration to Jakarta.

