ACKNOWLEDGMENT

All praise and gratitude belong to Allah SWT for His countless blessings, guidance, and strength, so that the writer is able to complete this thesis entitled “Online Validation and Peer Influence Behind Kat’s Behavior Change in Euphoria Season I (2019).” This thesis would not have been completed without His help and the support of many people who have been present in different ways throughout this journey. The writer is deeply thankful for every prayer, encouragement, advice, and kindness given during the process of writing this thesis.

The writer would like to express her deepest appreciation and gratitude to her thesis advisor, Dr. Retno Wulandari, S.S., M.A., as the Head of the English Department and the writer’s thesis advisor, for the guidance, patience, and suggestions given throughout the process of writing this thesis. The writer is truly grateful for the time she has given, the advice she has shared, and the support she has shown during every stage of this writing process.

The writer would also like to express her sincere gratitude to the following:

1. Prof. Dr. Alamsyah, S.S., M.Hum., as the Dean of the Faculty of Humanities, Universitas Diponegoro.
2. All lecturers of the English Department at Universitas Diponegoro, for the knowledge, lessons, and valuable experiences given during the writer’s study.
3. The writer’s beloved parents and brothers, for their endless prayers, unconditional love, patience, and support that have carried the writer throughout her life and academic journey. The writer is truly thankful for the encouragement, understanding, and warmth given, especially during the tiring and uncertain moments of writing this thesis.
4. Nadia, Chiara, Keisya, Intan, Carissa and Salsa, for staying close in heart despite the distance. The writer is truly grateful for their friendship, support and little check-ins that have made her feel accompanied even while living away from home.

5. Moyna, Nabila, Trisna, Zieva, and Nadya, for bringing warmth, laughter and comfort into the writer's life. The writer is truly grateful for every message, story, and support they have shared, especially during the tiring days of completing this thesis. Their presence, even from afar, has always made the writer feel supported and less alone.
6. Vania, Nayla, Kuni, Hilyah, and Habibah, for being one of the reasons the writer was able to survive and feel at home while living away from home. The writer is deeply grateful for their presence through classes, assignments, and many small moments that made college life feel lighter and more meaningful.
7. Mbak Fara, for her kindness, care, and support during the writer's time living away from home. The writer is truly grateful for the help and attention she has given, especially during the writer's years in Semarang.
8. Her classmates, Real D, for being part of the writer's college journey and for filling it with laughter and memories. The writer is sincerely grateful for every shared class, assignment, conversation, and moment that made university life feel more alive.
9. Alivia, Rizka, Afrili, Adinda, Aqilah, Zahra, Murti, Boma, Fitra, and the rest of KKN-T 113, for becoming an unexpected yet meaningful part of the writer's journey near the end of her college life. The writer is deeply grateful for the laughter, support, and moments that made the final part of her college life feel more memorable.
10. Lastly, the writer herself, for choosing to keep going despite the difficult and exhausting moments throughout this journey.
