

ABSTRACT

This thesis entitled "Citation Analysis of International Journal Articles on Lecturer's Research Final Reports for S1 Degree of Library Science Faculty of Humanities, Diponegoro University at 2015-2018". The aim of the research is to know the using-level of international journal articles, the most-cited title and writer of international article journals on lecturer's research final reports for S1 Degree of Library Science Faculty of Humanities, Diponegoro University. The method used in this study is quantitative with bibliometric study. The data source that is used in this research was secondary data source, which is through reference list. The variable that is used in this research was a single variable since there is no factor that influences and influented. The sample-taking in this research using total sampling technique, which used all of the samples of the population. The sample-collecting that is used in this research is through documentation method. The results of this study indicate that the level of use of international journals in lecturer research writing is 19.29%, while for international journal articles the most frequently cited is "Becoming information literate in the Netherlands contained in the journals of Library Review with a percentage of 0.52 % and listened 4 times. The names of the writers cited most often by lecturers of the Library Science Study Program in 2015 to 2018 were Boekhorst A.K and Oppenheim C with a percentage of 0.24% of the citation frequency 4 times.

Keywords: citation analysis, bibliometric, international journal, S1 Library Science Diponegoro University's lecturer research