

ABSTRACT

Professional development of librarians as part of strengthening the profession and enhance credibility. Increased professionalism of librarians is required as the role of professional associations such as the Bachelor of Library and Information Science Association. This research will explain the contribution of the Indonesian Institute of Library and Information Sciences in the development of librarians. The research method used is qualitative with a case study approach. Techniques of data retrieval by interview to the informant selected through snowball sampling. Interview results were analyzed using thematic analysis. The results of this research analysis, involvement in professional development of librarians ISIP II namely the institutional aspects, the discussion of strategic issues, scientific, professional strengthening, and policy advocacy in library and information science.

Keywords: professional association; professionalism; librarianship.