

ABSTRACT

This study is related with the effectiveness of the local wisdom digital collections for users at The Central Archives and Library of Central Java Province. The purpose of the local wisdom digital collections at The Central Archives and Library of Central Java Province as a provider of information and facilitate users for getting information about local wisdom of Central Java. The effectiveness of this study is to determine the success of the purpose of the local wisdom digital collections at The Central Archives and Library of Central Java Province as a provider of information for users by using the theory of D&M Information System Success Model by DeLone and McLean. In this study, there are six dimensions: system quality, information quality, service quality, intention to use, user satisfaction, and net benefits. The method used is descriptive approach survey. Collecting data was obtained by using a questionnaire to 34 respondents who has accessed the local wisdom digital collections of The Central Archives and Library of Central Java Province. Sampling used was total sampling because the population are less than 100. Indicators of system flexibility, accuracy, cost savings, and time savings got very high mean (4.21-5.00). The results of this study show that the effectiveness of the local wisdom digital collections for users at The Central Archives and Library of Central Java Province is equal to 77.62% and it is considered success. The results means that H_1 is accepted dan H_0 is rejected in this study.

Keywords: effectiveness; local wisdom digital collections; and Central Archives and Library of Central Java Province